VILLAGE BOARD ORDERS ACTION ON ASSESSMENTS

Votes to Place Delinquent Accounts in Hands of Attorney

Power to take whatever steps are necessary to collect delinquent special assessments due the village of Antioch was placed in the hands of the village attorney at a special meeting of the board Tuesday evening. Hope was expressed that foreclosure would not be necessary, but the board's resolution gave permission to follow that course if other action fails to bring results.

While the resolution will not be formally adopted until the next board meeting, the village attorney was requested to proceed with his collection campaign at once. As the village has payments overdue on bond interest and finds itself unable to retire other bonds which have matured, the board is in need of immediate funds.

During the meeting the board also decided that arrest orders should be issued, starting next week, against all food and beverage trucks which have failed to buy licenses as ordered last spring. According to Village Clerk R. L. Murrie, some 20 trucks delivering to Antioch for grocery chains and wholesale food and beverage concerns have not yet purchased licenses.

Drivers of unlicensed trucks are to be hauled before Police Magistrate Elmer Brook and the owners will be liable for fines ranging between $5 and $100 for each offense. The ordinance governing the licensing of foodstuffs states that "a separate offense shall be deemed committed on each day during or on which a violation occurs or continues."

Junior Legionnaires Install New Officers

Tenth District Commander William Seymour of North Chicago was installing officer as Captain Orville Winfield and the other new officers of the Antioch Sons of the Legion formally took their posts Wednesday evening at Legion headquarters.

Others besides Winfield who took places on the staff of Squadron No. 748 were: Harold Atwood, first lieutenant; Donald Bratrud, secretary; Robert Phillips, adjutant; Dudley Ward, chaplain; William Johnson, sergeant-at-arms; William Phillips, finance officer; William Chase, historian.

Four members of the Legion Auxiliary attended the ceremony as guests: Mrs. W. W. Ward, president; Mrs. A. P. Bratrud, Mrs. William Phillips and Mrs. Paul Chase.

Services Held Here For Twin Lakes Man

Funeral services for George Beck, 57, of Twin Lakes were held at the Strang Funeral Home Monday afternoon. Mr. Beck died Saturday at his home following six months illness from heart trouble.

Rev. W. C. Henslee, pastor of the Antioch Methodist church, lead the services here and conducted the burial ceremony which took place at Memorial Park Cemetery at Evanston, the city of Mr. Beck's birth.

Mr. Beck was born Nov. 5, 1880, and made his home in Evanston until five years ago, when he moved to Twin Lakes. He is survived by his wife, Marie Beck; his mother, Mrs. Emma J. Beck of Evanston; a brother, Frank L. Beck of Evanston; and one sister, Mrs. A. H. Pierstorff of Loon Lake.

Six Antioch High school students attended a performance of the opera "Carmen" last Saturday at the Civic Opera House in Chicago.

Those who made the trip were: Virginia Ames, Betty Lu Williams, Bonnie Jensen, Betty Grimes, Evelyn Van Patten and Parker Hazen.

Miss Cornelia Roberts, faculty member, accompanied the group.

Correspondents for outlying communities are requested to get their copy in a day earlier than usual, and all notices and advertising copy should be left at the paper office as early in the week as possible.

Story of Southern Illinois Oil Basin Told to Men's Club

Seven million acres—or about 11,000 square miles—of Illinois land are now under lease to oil companies, members of the Antioch Men's Club were told Monday evening by John Logan Boyles, Waukegan attorney. Mr. Boyles, speaking on "The Southern Illinois Oil Basin," addressed the group at its monthly meeting which was held in the Guild hall at St. Ignace church.

Although drilling, for the main part, has been abandoned for the winter, Mr. Boyles said that wells sunk this year in the new development in Wayne, Marion and Richland counties are already producing 38,000 to 39,000 barrels per day—at $1.25 to $1.35 a barrel.

In a section where farms are among the poorest in the state, the oil discovery last March was a genuine godsend, Mr. Boyles stated, saving many a farmer from losing his land by foreclosure and permitting many of the rest to take the first deep breath in years.

Most of the wells were said to produce from 800 to 3,000 barrels each day while the early pressure lasted and can be expected to give 500 a day for some 35 years after pumping becomes necessary.

"Black Gold" Lifts Mortgage

To emphasize what the oil discovery has meant to many in the area, Mr. Boyles told of a personal friend who was about to lose his farm. When the mortgage had but three more days to run the representative of an oil company appeared, advanced him a check for $2,700 to clear the farm and then promptly leased the acreage.

Mr. Boyles gained his acquaintance with the situation in the newly discovered field through work in title fixing on behalf of various oil companies. He is still more directly interested as a land-owner in Clay county, which adjoins the area now under development and in which land is already under lease.

The original Illinois oil field, to the east and north of the new development, has produced 450 million barrels since its discovery 35 years ago, the men's club was informed. While its rate of production was never impressive compared to the output of fields discovered in the past 20 years, for a time it gave Illinois third place among the states in the matter of oil production.

Antioch Lions Bowlers Down Fox Lake Team

By a 100-point margin the Antioch Lions' bowling team trimmed the Fox Lake leggers in a contest at Fox Lake last Friday to take top position in District 1-A of the Lions bowling league.

Although no phenomenal scores were turned in, the local team had little trouble with their first opponents. The Antioch club was represented by Walter Scott, Ed Vos, James Moran, Irving Elms and R. G. Holtz. The Fox Lake team included Adams, Burger, Scott, Carlson and Jensen.

Five clubs are members of the 1-A District league: Antioch, Fox Lake, Libertyville, Highland Park and Waukegan. The local club will go into action again this Sunday when the team tackles Libertyville.

HITCH HIKERS TAKE NOTE

A hint to hitch-hikers was included in the decision on a damage suit at Elkhorn, Wis., last week. C. E. Smith of Geneva township asked $2,000 damages for injuries sustained when hit by a truck driven by Andrew Hansen of Harvard. The jury decided against the plaintiff, holding him guilty of negligence in walking down the right side of the road—instead of on the left, against the traffic.

Hunt Wild Geese on the Mississippi River

Louis Nielsen, Wm. Malek, Roy Johnson and Ray Lauer left Monday for southern Illinois where they expect to shoot wild geese in the vicinity of Cairo. On the way home they planned to stop along the Illinois river for duck shooting. They are expected to arrive home the latter part of the week with a full cargo of wild fowl.

TAX LEVY BOOSTED— BUT NOT VERY MUCH

Increase Voted by Supervisors Will Cost Antioch Residents Little

Another boost in taxes—but the increase of 5 cents per $100 property value voted by the county board last week needn't concern Antioch residents too much. It will cost the community at large less than $200, or less than 20 cents per capita.

The cause of the penny pilfering is an $87,543 increase over the 1937 tax levy in Lake county—56 cents per $100 valuation compared to 51.

An appropriation of $253,008 was approved by the supervisors for general purposes, including the tax collection department, purchasing agent and public school nurse. This fund will be augmented by an estimated $214,000 which the various county offices are expected to take in during the fiscal year starting December 7, providing a total amount of $467,008 for general purposes.

For other purposes, including $129,000 for the tuberculosis sanitarium, an appropriation of $243,890 was granted.

It is expected that property values in the county will not exceed $83,000,000. As a 25-cent per $100 limit is placed on the levy for the general fund, even if all extensions are paid the collections will fall some $35,000 short of the $253,000 levy approved by the board.

In the past several years the collections have been only 80 per cent of the extensions. On this basis, collections for 1938 are likely to total some $45,000 less than the appropriation approved by the supervisors, necessitating a corresponding cut in the levy for general purposes to keep it within the 25-cent limit.

"Banquet" for Rats Scheduled Nov. 23

A banquet to the rats in Lake county will take place November 23.

According to Farm Adviser H. C. Glickerson, requests for the prepared bait, that is available at a number of distribution points throughout the county, have been pouring in the past few weeks and with several hundred farms and as many premises in towns thoroughly baited this campaign will result in a marked reduction in the rat population.

People who have an infestation of rats and have not requested the prepared bait should do so tomorrow or Saturday morning at the Farm Bureau office. Those in the vicinity of Antioch who wish a supply of the poison can also obtain it at the Antioch Milling company.

Many thousands of dollars worth of food and property will be saved if everyone having an infestation of these pests cooperates by applying an effective method of control, says Mr. Glickerson.

The rat is one of the most prolific breeders among mammals, having 6 to 10 litters a year with an average of 10 young to the litter, according to the federal rat experts. This rapid rate of reproduction makes it desirable to do a thorough job of destruction by whatever method is employed.

Conservation Group Holds First Meeting

The first meeting of the newly elected committee on agricultural conservation for the northwest area of Lake county was held last weekend. Plans for organizing a system of soil conservation and promoting better farming were discussed.

Henry Grimm of Antioch is head of the committee by reason of his election last Wednesday by representatives of Lake Villa, Avon, Grant and Antioch townships. He also automatically became a member of the county board of directors of the agricultural association.

Other members of the northwest committee elected last week are Philip Wagner, Lake Villa, vice chairman; Charles Paddock, Antioch; Charles Carey, Grayslake; and Alex Hughes, Antioch.

Seek Specimens in West For Will Rogers Museum

Adjutant Z. A. Wiles of Camp Lake and W. E. Dillio of Newark, N. J., left today by auto for a trip through Kansas, Arkansas, Colorado and New Mexico, from which states they expect to bring back a number of interesting specimens for the Will Rogers Museum at Camp Lake. Mr. Dillio, who is managing director of the Downtown Boys club at Newark, was asked by Commissioner McIntyre to help him develop the museum. Dillio has been active in boys' work in the past 40 years.

THE COP IS GETTING CLOSER

Failure of Board To Act on Zoning Brings Indignation

Failure of the board of supervisors to reconsider the zoning ordinance at their November meeting has brought a new wave of indignation from property holders in Lake county. Discounting the board's excuse that pressure of other business made consideration of the law impossible, the Lake County Lumbermen's association and the city council of Zion have added their voices to the clamor for action.

Supervisor Harold D. Kelsey of Barrington states that numerous property owners in Cuba township have urged him to force deliberation of the problem at the December meeting of the supervisors, while board chairman Homer T. Cook has admitted receipt of numerous phone calls and written requests to the same effect.

Dan Hentges, supervisor who led the group which defeated the motion for a $15,000 appropriation for the zoning plan at the October board meeting, has stated that he is "ready to go along" with a workable plan. The Lake Forest representative made the reservation, however, that the work should be placed in the hands of local engineers, recommending county highway superintendent R. M. Lohdell.

In the appropriation bill drawn at the board meeting last week, no provision was made for funds to finance the desired zoning work, but supervisors say that money could be drawn from the $20,000 miscellaneous claims fund if the plan were approved this winter.

Antioch Men Attend State Convention Of Insurance Agents

Four Antioch insurance agents—R. C. Abt, S. B. Nelson, J. C. James and H. A. Radtke, were in Rockford yesterday attending the annual meeting of Illinois Association of Insurance agents held in the Faust hotel. In point of attendance the Antioch delegation was tops. No other town in Lake or McHenry counties had as many representatives in the convention.

Illinois Has Longest Straight Paved Highway

A 46½ mile pavement without a curve, on Route 121 (U. S. 36), between Crisman and Casner, is said to be the world's longest stretch of straight concrete highway. Starting just east of Crisman the pavement extends due west almost to Casner, a small village 10 miles east of Decatur. The longest piece of straight highway is also said to be in this state, a 37 mile stretch on the Illinois Central line.

BRIGHT TO SPEAK

Principal L. O. Bright will address a meeting of Northwest Conference high school principals this week-end. He will present a discourse on the remedial reading course which has proved so successful at Antioch High school.

Class Visits Telephone Office

Members of the freshman general business class of Antioch High school visited the telephone office yesterday, where the operation of the phone system was explained to them by Mrs. Ruth Tidmarsh, manager of the Antioch exchange.

Mr. and Mrs. David Pullen were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Webb Sunday, at their home near Millburn.

Social Security Worker To Address Lions Club

Albert S. Lewis, Social Security manager for Lake and McHenry counties, will address the Antioch Lion's club at its meeting next Monday night to be held at the Golden Hotel at 7 o'clock.

Following a general talk on the Social Security Act, Mr. Lewis will answer any questions that members of the club or their guests wish to ask concerning the operation of the old age benefit plan.

Early Treatment Vital In Fight Against T.B.

The person who is told by his physician that he has tuberculosis and who refuses to follow the doctor's advice is as foolish as a person who drives onto a railroad crossing when the red lights are flashing, according to the Illinois Tuberculosis Association.

This statement comes as the result of several recent reports of persons who refused to accept the scientific evidence that they had active tuberculosis and who pursued lives of activity until they became bedfast and until it was too late to cure the disease. Beginning tuberculosis does not have physical symptoms that the patient can recognize and, as a result, some people refuse to believe the X-ray evidence of the disease.

Early tuberculosis is more easily curable, and when treated at once usually results in comparatively rapid recovery. The more advanced tuberculosis is when treatment is started, the more expensive is the cure, both from the standpoint of tax money expended and from loss of earnings on the part of the patient. Most cases of early tuberculosis can be cured and the individual can look forward to a normal life of economic usefulness.

Fifty Cards Returned In Count of Jobless

More than 50 unemployed or partially employed residents had returned job census blanks to the Antioch post office when a check up was made this morning.

It was expected by Postmaster James Moran that a considerably larger number would be submitted before the deadline Saturday, but he seemed satisfied with the promptness with which the cards were coming in.

More than 50,000 blanks were distributed Tuesday in Lake county, according to an estimate of the 25 postmasters. As an initial report must be forwarded to Washington by midnight Saturday, it is essential that the blanks be returned at the earliest possible moment.

Bid on Street Project Given State Approval

The bid of the Arrow Petroleum company for improving Harden and Spafford streets has been approved and its bond accepted by the state highway department, according to Village Clerk R. L. Murrie.

As soon as the contract has been signed at the Elgin and Springfield offices of the department, the grading of Harden street will get under way. It is expected that the work will begin immediately after the Thanksgiving holiday.

Last Sunday the daily theatre invitation of the Waukegan News-Sun fell to L. C. Strang. He was offered two free tickets to the performance of Blackstone, the magician, at the Genesee theatre.

SEQUOITS MEET RICHMOND FIVE FRIDAY EVENING

Coach Childers Promises Exciting Contest for Season Opener

Small, but speedy and full of fight. That's how Coach Reuben Childers describes this year's Sequoit basketball team which will open its season Friday night against Richmond.

The game will be played on the local floor, and the mothers and fathers of all the Antioch high school students have been invited to attend the contest free of charge. Starting time will be 7:30 o'clock.

A veteran quintet will start for the Sequoits: Bernard Osmond and Jack Effinger, forwards; Jack Riddell, center; and Russell Doolittle and Jack Crandall, guards. All five were letter winners last season.

Since Riddell is the only rangy man on the team, Coach Childers believes that the Sequoits will profit considerably by the new rule eliminating the center jump. This year the ball will be tossed up at center only at the start of each half. After each score, the team scored upon will throw the ball in from under the hoop it is defending.

The Sequoits hope to gain revenge Friday for the pair of defeats suffered at the hands of Richmond in the past two years. Not that the defeats were humiliating, because the tall Richmond quintet has been trimming other conference teams with similar regularity. But enough is enough.

Coach Childers is optimistic over the team's chances in the opener and hopes that the regulars can gain an advantage sufficient to permit use of members of the lightweight squad in the later stages of the game.

Although last year's team met with fair success—heading the northern division of the Northwest conference and taking the district title in the state eliminations—the coach believes that the 1937 quintet will improve on last season's record.

He particularly urges support of the team, promising an exciting contest tomorrow night that will be well worth seeing.

Next Tuesday the Sequoits will face Waukegan on the latter's court, and it is hoped that a game can be arranged with Wilmet for Wednesday or Thursday. The latter game would be played here.

Home Meat Supply to Hold Spotlight in Coming Farm and Home Bureau Meeting

Lake county is one of 15 counties in the state sponsoring a meat cutting and canning demonstration this year with the assistance of food specialist, Miss Glenn Henderson, and H. G. Russell, specialist in animal husbandry, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

The two-fold demonstration, planned to precede the usual butchering season, will take place at the Farm Bureau Building on December 3 at 1:30 p. m. according to Mrs. Helen Volk, Home Adviser, and Harry Glickerson, Farm Adviser.

Mr. Russell will demonstrate the most efficient way to cut up beef or pork to obtain cuts of meat which the family can use readily. In combination with the demonstration, he will show wholesale and retail cuts of meat.

The relation of the proper cutting of meat to the ease with which home-makers may prepare the meat for meals will also be brought out in the cooperative demonstration by Mr. Russell and Miss Henderson. Miss Henderson will stress safe canning principles and demonstrate the use of the pressure cooker for canning meat.

Information on butchering methods and canning procedures will be made available at the meetings. The county-wide demonstration is open to everyone, according to Mrs. Volk and Mr. Glickerson.

Full House Enjoys Rotnour Presentation

Another full house enjoyed the laugh-studded performance of the J. D. Rotnour players last week as the cast presented "Ole Goes to Town."

"Other People's Money," also a comedy, will be presented by the popular dramatic troupe at the Crystal theatre this evening. A Bowery specialty and dance by Miss LaVerne will headline the list of novelties which features this week's offering.

Tickets for the shows are distributed by 21 Antioch merchants, listed in an advertisement elsewhere in the paper. Doors will open at 7:30 p. m., and, as usual, the curtain will rise at 8:15 sharp.

Zoning Follies—Act II

Who said American government was representative? Or if the Lake county board of supervisors IS a representative body, we are more than a little curious to know WHO it is they represent. For the second consecutive month they have arbitrarily refused to take action on a zoning law for the county—despite the fact that their constituents have been pleading, urging and demanding that such action be taken.

Organized civic and commercial groups have submitted formal resolutions requesting that a zoning law be drafted. Even individual taxpayers—whose indifference towards the follies of our legislative bodies is traditional—have roused from their customary state of inertia to bombard the chairman of the board with written and vocal demands that "something be done."

Lake county faces a highly prosperous future as a residential area. It must act NOW if potential home sites are to be protected against the devaluing presence of auto "grave-yards" and cheaply constructed shanties of semi-transient dwellers. Once established, under non-zoning conditions, such eye-sores are exempt from removal or restriction—and each passing month will find more such structures and establishments blotting the Lake county landscape.

We shudder when we recall that it took 15 years for a vociferous public opinion to wipe the Volstead Act from the statute books. But it was not so all essential that the beverages of Bacchus be legally available on call (especially since prohibition was more fiction than fact). However, it IS important that building projects and the establishment of commercial enterprises in Lake county be placed under supervision and restriction AT ONCE. Fifteen years from now will be too late—and even in 15 months much irreparable damage may be done to real estate values in this vicinity.

One for Ripley

A curious and perhaps unprecedented situation has arisen in San Francisco where two great publicly owned bridges spanning the Bay have recently been built. Before the day of the bridges, San Francisco commuters were served for two generations by a picturesque ferry system which carried passengers and automobiles from the city to all other Bay points. The ferry system, privately owned and publicly regulated, represents private investment, and must pay its own way in addition to heavy taxes. The new competition of the tax-free bridges caused the ferries to lose the great bulk of their passengers. Finally they sought and obtained permission to reduce their fares from 50c to 30c a trip.

Now the publicly owned and tax-exempt bridges complain that the low ferry rates are cutting into the bridge business and they are asking that the ferries be forced by law to raise their charges.

To quote the San Francisco Chronicle: "We are familiar with instances in which public ownership, by using the public credit, escaping taxation and falling back on taxpayers to pay deficits, has driven private ownership to the wall. In this instance it is argued that private ownership can be compelled to charge rates high enough to drive away business, go into bankruptcy and leave a monopoly to its public ownership competitor."

Here is an entirely new theory of rate making which asks, in effect, that publicly owned business, backed by the money of all the taxpayers, be allowed to destroy a private company to escape competition. It demands that where a private business takes patronage from publicly owned business, the former should be forced to increase its charges to the point where it loses all its trade. One main argument for the establishment of the publicly owned bridges was to reduce ferry rates for the public—they have succeeded and the public is profiting—what are they kicking about? This is one for Ripley of "Believe It or Not" fame.

This Screwy Age

The government's left hand knows not what its right hand doeth. That seems to be the only possible deduction to be made from a series of recent events.

The Department of Agriculture has issued a sweeping complaint against a number of large meat packing firms, on the grounds that they have violated the anti-trust laws by conspiring to manipulate and control prices.

And at the last session of Congress a law was passed—the Miller-Tydings Act—which makes a farce of all anti-trust legislation so far as it applies to trade-marked products in interstate commerce. The Act provides that the manufacturers of these products may establish the minimum retail price at which they may be sold. Approximately 40 states have similar laws in effect. If a retailer refuses to hold to the "fixed" price, the manufacturer may blacklist him and refuse to deliver him more goods.

Price-fixing with government blessing is very new in our national life, but the effects of it are already seen. In less than a year, representative products, including cosmetics, liquors and drugs, rose in price 5 to 15 percent above the levels obtained before price-fixing was legalized. The future trend will inevitably be upward.

So we legalize anti-trust law violations for some concerns, and at the same time we prosecute others for alleged violations of the anti-trust laws. This curious situation will doubtless provide an interesting chapter for the scholars who will some day write the history of this screwy age.

Financial Hocus-Pocus

During the first four months of the current fiscal year the government of the United States has collected $215,000,000 in social security taxes. If anybody imagines that this money has been set aside under lock and key, in a special reserve fund which will accumulate interest over a period of years and enable the Government ultimately to pay the benefits which the Social Security Act requires, his faith is based upon a misconception of facts.

The $215,000,000 has all been spent, for a variety of purposes: perhaps to help build Grand Coulee Dam, perhaps to finance WPA projects in street-paving, perhaps to pay the salaries of officers in the navy—no one knows precisely, since the dollars that come into the Treasury are not so earmarked that they can be identified when they go out again. As for the reserve fund which is supposed to supply the money needed in future years for the payment of benefits under the Social Security Act: It consists at present only of Government I. O. U's.

Certain conclusions are inescapable. One is the fact that what the government has actually done has been to invent a new kind of corporation tax and a new kind of personal income tax, applied in the case of individuals even to the smallest incomes. Equally clear is the fact that this system is a constant beguiling temptation to governmental extravagance.

Competing With Cheops

Fort Peck dam on the Missouri river in Montana, is generally conceded to be the largest construction project ever undertaken by man—larger even than the great pyramid of the Egyptian pharaoh, Cheops. The $200,000,000 of public funds to be spent on it will ultimately result in a vast pile of dirt, ranging as high as 242 feet over the river bed and extending across several miles of Montana prairie land. Behind this monumental upheaval will be created the "largest duck pond in the world."

Laboring taxpayers are told by "liberal" politicians that Fort Peck dam is justified in the name of humanity. They paint a glowing picture, but here is what the United States army engineer corps has to say of Fort Peck:

In regard to electric power, Major General Markham, chief of the engineers, recommended that the power plants be not installed for the practical reason that there is no market for the power. Fort Peck dam is located in a sparsely settled region, having an average population of only 2.7 persons per square mile. Stock raising and dry farming are the principal occupations. The report likewise pointed out that the dam will be of no material benefit as far as flood control is concerned. And, finally, in regard to improved navigation: "The Missouri river never can and never will be a great originator of traffic. There are no mines, no factories, no other great sources of originating traffic on the river. . . . Many years, perhaps decades, must elapse before any considerable traffic will develop, if it ever does."

Stripped of verbal persiflage, Fort Peck dam becomes nothing but a monument to political vanity, a monument that will make the taxpayers sweat, and whose chief claim to fame is that it is bigger than Cheops' pyramid.

tion of Russell Ende. An interesting talk by Fred Baysinger completed the program.

The opening basket ball game will be played Tuesday evening, November 23 at Williams Bay. It will be a non-conference game.

Entertainment for young and old will be provided at the annual school carnival to be held at the school Friday night, November 19. Interesting programs, short skits and stunts have been prepared to entertain those attending. The carnival has drawn very well in the past and with crowning of the King and Queen, selected from the student body, promises a very enjoyable evening.

LAKE VILLA SCHOOL NEWS

Our short vacation now being over, we are preparing for the tri-monthly exams which we will have next week.

On Monday Mr. Dixon read three letters which we had received from the Alvin Lyons Expedition which were written by Mr. Lyons and his son, Roger. These letters were very interesting. They started out in Washington, D. C. and then came back to Chicago they went to La Salle, Illinois, then on to Oklahoma, and the last letter was written from Houston, Texas. They are now in Mexico, and we are anxiously awaiting a letter from there.

Tuesday we had movies about Land Transportation which proved very interesting and educational for all grades.

Also on Tuesday morning the seventh grade entertained the Upper Grade Room with a short program by members of the class. Next week the eighth grade will entertain.

We received a new flag last Thursday from the Fox Lake American Legion. Gladys Keisler, Leo Buchta and Johnnie Myer were to have been at the Grant High school to receive the colors but due to car trouble on the way, they were unable to reach their destination. We wish, however, to thank Mr. Reinbach for receiving the flag for us and bringing it back to Lake Villa.

On Monday the seventh and eighth grade pupils pretended that they were colonial children and wrote back to England telling about Thanksgiving.

Intermediate Rooms

Hosts and hostesses for the week in the Intermediate Room are Junior Miller, Robert Klein, Marilyn Tiede, and Denise Tanner.

Marilyn Tiede entertained seven of her friends for a birthday party Thursday, November 11, 1937.

We have a family of squirrels living in a tree on the school ground.

Primary Room

Kennie Barnstable went pheasant hunting and shot a rabbit. Perhaps some hunters would have been disappointed, but not Kennie.

Bruce Hamlin went to Chicago to see his mother.

Bob Thompson says he enjoyed eating Kennie Hart's pheasant.

Susie Weber was very happy to receive a little doll cradle that her Grandma Welker had made for her before he died. Susie, herself, slept in the cradle the first time she visited her Grandma and Grandma Welker.

Invented Artificial Writing Machine

Charles Thurlin, of Worcester, Mass., invented an artificial writing machine (typewriter) in which the letter-spacing was effected by the longitudinal movement of a cylinder.

ANTIOCH INCIDENTS—The new Methodist church will be dedicated next Sunday. Dr. A. D. Traveler will preach.

The following committee have been selected to choose the most popular gentleman for Mrs. P. B. Campbell's Thanksgiving ball: Mr. J. J. Burke, Charles Powles, Chase Webb, Antioch; Mr. Lewin, Lake Villa; Krum Blunt, Grass Lake; Mr. Cleveland, Grays Lake. The committee to select the most beautiful lady as queen are: Mrs. Carrie Hook, Mrs. Rose Mathews, Miss Lottie Haycock, Mrs. Ernest Simons, Antioch; Mrs. Clifford Nelson, Lake Villa; Miss Kelly, Russell; Miss Schlax, Salem.

J. C. James, Jr., received notice from the state board of health that he had successfully passed the examination of embalmers held in Chicago last October.

On Wednesday evening at about 7:45 a cry of fire was heard which upon investigation proved to be the dwelling house owned by Williams Bros. and occupied by John Porter and family, situated north of the school house. . . . Our people are being shown, time and time again, the helpless condition we are in without some means with which to fight fire, and it does seem as if some action should be taken.

Damages of $318 were awarded to the estate of James Bradley, Libertyville, following the location and construction of a telegraph line in front of the Bradley farm. The telegraph company offered the Bradleys $2, which was refused.

SCANNING THE ADS: $3.50 pays for 4 full quarts of the Famous MICHIGAN RYE or BOURBON whiskey, delivered by express, prepaid, in plain box, with no marks to show the contents. (Wonder how many Satan got behind?)

Opportunity, knocks, gentlemen! Handsome American lady, independently rich, wants a good honest husband. Mrs. E. Chicago, Ill.

MISCELLANY: Shoe on the Other Foot Department—The home of Jesse James was robbed in Kansas City the other night. Jewelry, a revolver and clothing was taken. Jesse was at his pawn shop at the time.

Fred Peterson, aged 13, was instantly killed at Fountain City, Minn., while playing with his brother with a shotgun and rifle, neither of which was thought to be loaded. (It'll happen every time.)

Edwin C. Crane, a musician of Detroit, Mich., committed suicide in New York by taking carbolic acid. The 1937 musician would probably choose to "swing."

Nearly 500 machinists at a San Francisco iron works returned to work after several months' strike in an effort to obtain 10 hours' pay for nine hours' work. It is understood they returned at the previous nine-for-nine wage rate. (The silliest! Today Butch Lewis has worked it down to a 40-hour week for 60-hour pay and still isn't satisfied.)

Mason and Dixon's famous line, historic boundary of the South, is being resurveyed and will not be perishing out of existence. The old stone markers and posts which indicated the line are being reset in solid cement bases and iron posts are being substituted in places where the old markers have disappeared.

James J. Jeffries, champion pugilist of the world, forced Gus Ruhlin, his challenger, to quit after five rounds of fighting before the Twentieth Century Athletic club at Francisco. Jeffries retains his title. Ruhlin is branded as a "faker." It is the first time in the history of the ring that a contender for the championship has deliberately quit.

Carving "Turk" Is Easy—When You Know How

SURE, you can carve the Thanksgiving turkey—simplest thing in the world. Follow these easy rules and you're sure to be the envy of all the guests who are usually awed by the dire prospect of having to whittle the festive fowl themselves. What's more, this simple method will give you time for a few nibbles at the white meat yourself before the first diner you served is howling for more.

Make sure the knife is sharp. Advance confidently upon the enemy, carving the side next you first, as it lies with the breast to your left. Fig. 1 shows leg being removed by placing knife between thigh and body, cutting from left to right. Pressing leg outward with knife and bending it back with left hand easily separates it from the body. It is rarely necessary to locate the socket and sever the thigh.

With leg removed to a service platter, as shown in Fig. 2, the triangular piece of dark meat is cut first from the thigh; then ligaments between thigh and drumstick are cut, just over round bone to the thigh side. Small portions of dark meat are prepared from thigh and drumstick, or latter is left whole. The wing, after being removed, is left on the platter or served, as you prefer.

Now for the breast. To avoid damaging the meat with fork holes, insert fork astride keel bone and beyond its point, one time on each side along the bone. Slice meat down from the keel bone, as shown in Fig. 3, or, starting just above the joint where the wing was removed, slice upward to the keel bone parallel to the breast bone. Note fork is held straight or almost straight up and down.

Another position of the fork is shown in Fig. 4. It is inserted in the side through the ribs. Platter is turned at right angles to the carver. While meat is sliced downward away from the keel bone or upward, as described above. The meat service will be made complete by placing two slices of white meat over the dark meat (usually two pieces) and the dressing.

By following this procedure an attractive service is assured and the meal is kept as hot as possible. If the carver is being assisted in such a manner it is best to carve white meat as needed for each individual service. Otherwise sufficient slices for all guests may be cut and placed on the platter along the edge in readiness to serve or on a separate plate.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Mortals and immortals" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 14.

The Golden Text was, "Because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father. Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ" (Galatians 4:6, 7).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "As for man, his days are as grass; as a flower of the field, so he flourisheth. For the wind passeth over it and it is gone; and the place thereof shall know it no more. But the mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him, and his righteousness unto children's children: To such as keep his covenant, and to those that remember his commandments to do them" (Psalm 103:15-18).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortal man is the antipode of the immortal in origin, in existence, and in his relation to God" (2:15:24).

RED MEN ARE GIVEN "NEW DEAL" BY U. S.

New Trade Regulations Guard Against Exploitation.

Window Rock, Ariz.—Indians now have a "new deal" under special regulations governing trade with Navajo, Zuni and Hopi reservations recently drawn in Washington.

The draft, approved by Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes and John Collier, United States commissioner of Indian affairs, is cited by E. R. Fryer, Navajo service superintendent, as an answer to those who would attempt to discredit Collier's work.

The regulations, which observers say give the Indians "the square deal" they have long had from the white man, are designed to prevent exploitation of the Indians through trade chicanery. Penalties are covered by severe penalties, including fines and prison terms for offenders.

Main point of the 28 rules enacted to protect the Indians is a regulation allowing only government employees to trade with the red men. Traders are directly responsible to Collier for entire operation of trading posts, Fryer said.

No licensed traders are permitted to grant or donate money or goods for the performance of any tribal dance or ceremony. All payments to Indians for products or labor must be made in United States currency or in credit on traders' books, at option of the Indian, it was decided.

All government checks accepted by traders must be made in cash, merchandise or credit to the full value of the check. Acceptance will be at option of the Indians in all cases, the superintendent said.

Trading fees, which will be exacted yearly for the privilege of conducting trade with the tribes, will be used to enforce regulations.

"Gambling devices and gambling of any sort is prohibited in traders' stores," Fryer said.

Traders are fully in accord with the new program, which is expected to remove much of the bitterness formerly associated with the necessary trade between white men and red men.

Waitresses Learn Suave

Manners in New School

St. Louis.—If John B. O'Meara, trainer of hotel employees, has his way, "hashers" will be a thing of the past and merchandisers of food will spring up in their place.

Next time you're in a restaurant, he says, ask the waitress what chicken is a la king is. If she answers indifferently, "Old chicken and gravy and stuff fixed up," she's a hasher—unmistakably.

You're being served by a merchandiser of food if she answers courteously, "It's chicken cubed in rich cream gravy with pimientos. We're serving it today in flaky pastry shells with mangoes and mushrooms added."

O'Meara's first lesson for waitresses concerns the menu—where the food came from, how it is prepared and how to describe it in a way that will make the stomach tingle expectantly.

The course advances to the proper way to take an order and proceeds to kitchen vocabulary. Definitely out are such instructions to the cook as "another man wants to take a chance," for an order of hash, or "six in the grease," for a half-dozen fried oysters.

University Completes

Schedule of Baby Cries

Berkeley, Calif.—The University of California has completed a schedule of baby's crying periods which may enable parents to arrange their program of when to be away from home.

The babies, the university has found, have the maximum period of crying during the first month of their life. Then for four months afterward there is a period during which the least crying occurs and when father may safely stay at home. But after that, there is a period of about one year, in which the vocal cords of baby are given plenty of exercise for future use in life.

24,000 YEARS' AUTO FUEL IS AVAILABLE

Experts Remove Big Cause for Motorists' Worry.

Washington, D. C.—If you have been losing any sleep over the probability that America's oil supply would be exhausted within fifteen years, you can relax now.

Dr. Gustav Klotz and J. C. Morrison, Chicago research workers, have looked over the situation and find it not exactly rosy, but satisfactory. Experts have estimated that there is enough oil in proven fields to last for fifteen years if recovered by present methods. However, new methods are being developed which will make it possible to obtain oil for the next 100 years.

Besides, there are new fields being discovered. In the future this quest for oil fields will go forward on a more scientific basis.

Oil is plentiful. Regardless of these new discoveries, all must recognize that oil is irreplaceable, our fastest vanishing resource and will be exhausted eventually. Thus it falls to the chemist to assure the world of its future supply of motor oil, the Chicago pair believe.

Natural gas is one of large potential sources of motor fuel which may be tapped by means of chemical reactions. Chemists estimated there is 1,600,000,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas in the United States. Some of this will be consumed as the crude oil is recovered from the earth and so even this supply is not sufficient.

Coal, it is believed, will be the greatest source of motor fuel once the oil fields are dry.

Let us look at the earth's coal resources. There are 7,400,000,000 tons in the world's estimated reserves, which at the present rate of consumption will last for at least 6,000 years if burned in solid form. But if converted into motor fuel by present known methods, this supply of coal would make enough for 24,000 years.

More Expensive. Chemists admit that it will cost more to recover gasoline from coal than from crude oil. But that is one of the things that future generations will have to do to pay for the current reckless expenditure of natural oil resources.

In the future, chemists will be able to produce from coal almost any desired hydrocarbon product or derivative which is now refined from petroleum. By the use of catalytic reactions, chemists already have laid the foundations for the production of explosives, dyes, drugs and medicines which are now produced only as coal tar derivatives.

Mississippi Moonshiners

Abandon Corn for Rye

Jackson, Miss.—Corn "likker" no longer flows in abundance from the copper stills of Mississippi. E. S. Chapman, head of the Mississippi office of the federal alcohol tax unit, estimated that "at least 90 per cent of the whisky illegally distilled in Mississippi is made from rye mash."

Chapman based his estimate on still seizures by federal agents. These seizures average fifteen to twenty stills a week, ranging from 60 to 500-gallon capacity. And, he pointed out, thousands of gallons of mash are seized weekly—and most of it is rye. A few years ago, nearly all of it—except in south Mississippi—was corn.

Most of the local product is for local consumption, Chapman said. Agents destroyed eleven stills in Rankin county, just across Pearl river from Jackson. The daily capacity of the eleven stills alone amounted to three quarts for every man, woman and child in the county seat.

Oxen Team Is Trained to Heed Traffic Signs

Benedict, N. D.—E. E. Simmons, known to his close friends as "Buffalo Ed," has added a new job to the operation of his 500-acre farm near here by taking advantage of interest in the old ox-drawn covered wagon.

Simmons and his four oxen make a profit each year appearing in historical parades. His portable historical exhibit, Simmons said, has never had an accident in 350 miles of parading and the oxen are so well trained that they can see and heed traffic semaphores.

Simmons denies he is "old-fashioned to the core."

"I bought an automobile 26 years ago and have used a car for business and pleasure ever since," he said.

Red Lights Seem Dimmer

When Traffic Is Noisy

Moscow, U. S. S. R.—Why do red lights seem less bright when traffic is noisy than they do when it is quiet?

The answer to this question has been found by Prof. S. V. Kravkov, head of the Central Institute of Optics, Moscow.

He has proved conclusively that sound affects the eye's sensitivity to colors, the effects varying in character for different colors. He has shown that on receiving auditory stimulation a normal eye becomes more sensitive to green and blue and less sensitive to red.

What's New in Radio?

By J. F. Witkowski

Principal, School of Radio,

Institute of Radio Engineers

A CALIFORNIA inventor has invented a new radio device to enable the dispatcher at an airport to keep track of transport planes in flight. Signals sent at predetermined intervals from a radio transmitter on the plane are picked up at the airport where they automatically control the movement of a spot of light across an air line map. The light accurately records the position of the plane, showing whether it is on or off its proper course.

A radio "tap detector" has been developed to uncover theft from oil pipe lines. If there is reason to suspect that an underground section of the line has been tapped, electrical oscillations are set up throughout the suspected section. A distinctive humming in the earphones of an inspector following the route of the line signals the presence of the most skillfully buried tap.

Telephone service from plane to earth has been installed by a western air line to enable passengers to talk to telephone subscribers in any part of the United States. The plane's phones connect by short-wave radio with the air line station. From the station the call is relayed to a nearby telephone exchange which puts the call through to its destination.

New Miracles Of The Photoelectric Cell

By James D. Purdy

Director, Schools of Electrical Engineering, International Correspondence Schools

TRANSFERENCE of light impulses into electrical impulses through the medium of a photoelectric cell is the basis of a newly invented method for the transmission of color photographs over long distance telephone circuits. In a recent demonstration of the method a three-color photograph was transmitted by telephone from Chicago to New York.

The United States Bureau of Standards has developed a balloon device to determine the safe flying ceiling during foggy weather. As the balloon ascends a photoelectric cell measures the light at different levels. Varying brightness of the light causes a change in the pitch of a radio signal which the device transmits to the recorder on the ground.

A new photoelectric device is now available for measuring light reflected from a wall or other flat surface. A hollow metal sphere is brought into position with its opening against the surface to be tested. Light is directed into the sphere through a tubular arm. An electric eye accurately measures the amount of light reflected from the surface.

Ye Council Eats Right Well After Ye Slick Barter

Deer Is Thanksgiving Meal and Indian Is Goat.

IF AMERICANS this Thanksgiving are well able to appease both their consciences and their appetites, their moral dexterity is no better than that of their forebears on the town council at Danvers, Mass., in the year 1714. Venison, rather than turkey, made up the piece de resistance on a Thanksgiving feast there, but religious complications arose, as recorded by Rev. Lawrence Conant, of that city.

"After ye blessing was craved by Mr. Garrich of Wrentham, word came that ye buck was shot on ye Pequot, ye will get forty stripes and—ye, ye council will eat ye deer." Lord's day by Pequot, an Indian, who came to Mr. Epes with a 'ye in his mouth like Ananias of old.

"Ye council therefore refused to eat ye venison, but it was afterward decided that Pequot should receive forty stripes save one, for lying and profaning ye Lord's day, restore Mr. Epes ye cost of ye deer, and considering this a just and rightful sentence on ye heathen, and that a blessing had been craved on ye meat, ye council all partook of it but Mr. Shepard, whose conscience was tender on ye point of ye venison."

In nearby Boston a few years later the arrival of morning with its siring of thrilled of several doll's. While the money loss, Robert King, manager of the estimates that it will cost $30 to repair damage done by the intruder.

In being forced open, considerable damage was done to the cash register so that it will require the work of a trained repairman to put it back order.

The thief, or thieves, gained entry through a rear window after breaking in and breaking the lock.

Mr. King has just about decided it would be cheaper to leave the register unlocked at night. It hadn't have been so bad losing the "ye feed", he said, if the intruder hadn't been so rough with the register.

pork brought him to a boy named Benjamin Franklin, who often became restless during the long graces which accompanied Massachusetts meals. So one day after the pork had been dutifully stored away, he suggested that if his father would only "say grace over the whole caak, once for all, it would be a vast saving of time."

In the latter half of the same century, whenever a feast was in order in the back country of Virginia and the Carolinas, young Daniel Boone or some other hunter would go out to find venison or bear meat to mix with pork in the habitual "great stew" of such a celebration. With it were served roast pork or bear or broiled venison.

Bear and venison are no longer generally available for the Thanksgiving dinner, but turkey is still one of the mainstays.

Washington Was First to Proclaim Thanksgiving Day

But Thank a Woman for Keeping It Alive.

ARGUMENT about the origin of Thanksgiving day in the United States has been going on, for these many years. There are several answers, and which of them is correct depends entirely upon the point of view.

We think of Thanksgiving usually as an institution begun by the Pilgrims. Without a doubt it was the Pilgrims who were the first group of American people to cease work to observe a day of thanksgiving.

It was George Washington, as President, who proclaimed the first national Thanksgiving day.

It was Sarah Josepha Hale, editor of Godey's Lady's Book, who fought for many years to have the national holiday revived as a regular annual celebration.

It was President Abraham Lincoln who issued the first national Thanksgiving proclamation since Jefferson, reviving a practice that has been observed each year ever since by whatever President who happened to be in office.

America's first official national Thanksgiving day occurred on November 29, 1789, or 168 years after Bradford's call upon the Pilgrims to give thanks. President Washington proclaimed it at the request of a joint committee of both houses of congress who beseeched him to declare a day of thanks for the favors of God bestowed upon the new republic.

In his proclamation President Washington said: "Now therefore do I recommend to the people of the

Tempting Recipes Help Vary Your Potato Dishes

(By Judith Wilson)

American traditions of the table call for potatoes at least once a day. Often they appear twice. Women intent upon slenderizing sometimes pass them up, ostensibly on that score, but possibly because the method of serving them has grown boring. Few men, whether they are trying to keep their waistlines down or not, consider a meal complete without potatoes in one form or another.

Too many of us get in a rut on this daily potato problem. We prepare the potatoes the same way night after night. Boiling them, we offer a change only in mashing or ricing them. Occasionally we serve fried potatoes, baked potatoes, or scalloped potatoes. For the most part we are too prone to take the potato problem lightly.

The routine methods of boiling, baking and frying are good, but if you are really interested in pepping up the appetites of your family, you will find variations are easy with adaptable vegetable. Different seasonings, a new kind of sauce, the use of fancy vegetable cutters—things as simple as these—will restore potatoes to a place in the menu.

Baked Cream Potatoes
This recipe calls for 3 cups diced, cooked potatoes, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, butter, 4 tablespoons flour, 1/2 cup American cheese, 2 cups milk, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 3 teaspoons prepared mustard, and 1/2 teaspoon pepper.

Make a cream sauce from the butter, flour, milk and seasonings. Stir until the sauce is thick and smooth, then add the grated or diced cheese and stir until it is melted. Pour over the diced potatoes in a casserole and decorate the top with additional dice of American cheese and paprika. Bake in a moderate oven about 20 minutes, or until light brown and bubbly on top. Serve piping hot.

Brevoort Sweets
For this recipe use 4 medium sweet potatoes, boiled, 3 apples, 2 bananas, and 1/4 cup orange or pineapple juice.

Boil the sweet potatoes in their jackets, peel and slice. Line a buttered baking dish with a layer of sliced potatoes and fill with alternate layers of these and sliced, cored raw apples. In the center of the casserole place a layer of sliced bananas. Add some of the fruit juice to each layer. Bake in a moderate oven until the apples are soft and the top layer is beginning to brown. Sweet potatoes prepared this way can be served hot or cold. Serve with hot or cold roast pork.

Stuffed Potatoes
Using large flat potatoes, bake in hot oven (450° to 500° F.) 45 minutes, or until done. Remove from oven, cut lengthwise in halves, and scoop out inside. Mash, season with melted butter, salt, and pepper. Add hot milk and whip until fluffy. Fill mixture into potato shells and bake in hot oven (450° F.) 5 to 8 minutes or until browned to your satisfaction.

Be sure to praise your child as often as you find fault with it.

The Inns of England
The inns of England have their foundations in the depths of the Middle Ages. Some of them have seen the almost prehistoric changes from crude earthen floors to stone floors and from stone floors to mats of rushes. They have sheltered kings and pilgrims, merchants and all kinds of travelers, and between the occasions of more spectacular hospitality they have gathered about them all the richness of the social life of the neighborhood, for it is at the inn that men have always met and expanded a personal and political philosophy.

Army and Navy Legion of Valor
The Army and Navy Legion of Valor is composed of men who have won the Medal of Honor, Distinguished Service Cross or Navy Cross. The Army's Distinguished Service Cross is for extraordinary heroism in war; the Navy Cross for a similar service. And over them comes the Medal of Honor (Army or Navy), the highest decoration given by the United States.

Barrington Reports Outbreak of Rabies

A rabies scare, reminiscent of the one that kept Antioch residents nervous for a time last summer, struck Barrington last week when several persons were placed under treatment following contact with infected animals.

Two individuals were bitten, one a 4-year old girl.

Health Officer E. W. Baade said no quarantine would be enforced if dog-owners would cooperate with authorities by keeping the pets tied up.

The old United States Bank of England was erected in 1798 and bore the American eagle on its front.

Spontaneous Combustion
Spontaneous combustion is fire resulting from heat produced as a result of the combination of oxygen with other substances. Rags, cotton waste, newspapers, straw and many similar materials give off heat of sufficient amounts to reach the kindling point of the materials, which burst into flame. Papers and magazines stored in a hot attic may result in spontaneous combustion.

Ants Like Warm Weather
Ants move 12 times as fast when the temperature is 100 degrees as they do when it is at 50 degrees.

Stroud was the name of a coarse blanket or garment used in Colonial days in trading with the Indians.

FAMED MAIL ROUTE IS 80 YEARS OLD

Opened First Transcontinental Postal Service.

San Diego, Calif.—The first transcontinental mail service is 80 years old this year. James Birch inaugurated his "Great Southern Overland" three years before the Wells Fargo Pony Express came into existence.

Known to pioneers as the "Jack-ass Mail," the line operated from San Diego to San Antonio, Texas, and then eastward to the Atlantic seaboard.

The southern mail route ran across San Diego county to Fort Yuma on the California side of the Colorado river. It went through Tucson, Ariz., to El Paso, Texas, and on to San Antonio, Texas, for a total distance of 1,500 miles.

By Stage and Rail.
There connections were made by rail, stage and steamer to eastern points.

Often compared in historical importance with victories of the army in the war with Mexico a decade before, Birch's mail line is credited with aiding in preserving the West for the United States.

As an investment, the "Great Southern Overland" was no shoe-string venture. Its financial report listed assets at more than $500,000. The line owned "1,000 good stage horses, valued at $275,000; 148 old stage horses, $14,800; 41 Spanish horses, $1,140; 127 mules, $19,050, and 63 coaches, $44,100."

Coaches and wagons, as well as saddle ponies, were used in carrying mail and passengers over the route, and when inclement weather bogged down the roads, so horse or mule drawn vehicles came to an impasse, riders—and sometimes passengers—mounted mule or horse and jogged over the mountains on a saddle route shortcut.

Dogged by Indians.

Yuma Indians and bandits dogged the trail of many intrepid mail carriers, and often, after crossing 100 miles of desert east of San Diego, the pioneers would find their chartered water holes dried up or filled with sand.

Alvin F. Harlow's accounts in "Old Waybills" reveal that—"on the trail west of the Rio Grande wheels had never rolled before. The Apaches gave trouble whenever they felt in the mood, which was five-sixths of the time. Mail, packages and provisions were taken over (the Rio Grande) in boats, and finally the forewheels of the stage were set in one skiff, the hind wheels in another, and this wobbly contrivance was paddled and pulled across the raging stream."

Round-Robin Epistle in Circulation 35 Years

Madison, Wis.—A round-robin letter that for 35 years, has been forwarded again and again to nearly all sections of the world is kept in circulation by 15 graduates of the University of Wisconsin's class of 1902.

The letter was started when the students were reluctant to part upon graduation.

In June, 11 of the 15 met here at their class reunion. At that time all were alive, but one, Paul C. Foster, Chicago, has since died.

The group was drawn together by a mutual interest in forming a Y. M. C. A. here during their student days. Their interest in Y. M. C. A. work continued after graduation, and at one time nine of the fifteen were Y. M. C. A. secretaries.

Five of the round-robin club members made Y. M. C. A. work their life vocation. Three became high school and university instructors, two became physicians, two entered law practice, two became insurance salesmen, and another went to live on a farm.

Y. M. C. A. work carried several of the members to China and Japan. A letter started in Japan would go the rounds of the members with each adding to it until it wound up back in Japan by way of China.

Fleeing Rat Carries Young
The russet-brown rat of the islands on the north Australian coast has a novel way of carrying its young. You will see a mother rat scurrying along with one or more half-grown babies clinging teeth-and-claw to the fur of its haunches. The added weight does not appear to cause much inconvenience, as the mother can make good time over the ground when hard pressed.

Large mouth bass make their nests several feet apart from each other. Small mouth bass will build nests touching or nearly touching each other.

Model Mate
After 50 years of observation Arthur Cleveland Bent, of the Smithsonian Institution, reveals that the red-shouldered hawk is the matrimonial model of birdhood. These birds marry very young, never desert their wives, and always live in the homes they stake out, even putting up no-trespassing signs made of fresh sprigs of evergreen. Most amazing of all is the clation with which they decorate the nest with violets when there's a new addition to the family.

Quacks in Literature
Literature has her quacks no less than medicine, and they are divided into two classes; those who have erudition without genius, and those who have volubility without depth; we shall get second-hand sense from the one, and original nonsense from the other.—Colton.
